DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see pages 7-8 of Applicant's remarks, filed 1/27/2011, with respect to claims 1-5 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The 35 U.S.C. 103 rejection of the previous action has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because claim is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

For claim 2, it is noted the body of the claim includes "a contiguous data area", "a contiguous header area", but these areas do not exclude the possibility of the claimed recording medium to be a signal. "In the start of the art, transitory signals are commonplace as a medium for transmitting computer instruction and thus, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary and give the broadest reasonable interpretation, the scope of a "computer readable medium" covers a signal per se." In order to overcome the 35 U.S.C. 101 rejection, the "recording medium" should be changed to "non-transitory recording medium".

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1, 3-5 are allowed;
4. Claim 2 would have been allowed if 35 U.S.C 101 rejection were overcome.

Conclusion

5. Examiner's Note: claims 1 and 3 invokes 35 U.S.C. 112 6th paragraph, means plus function. Figures 1-3 and 7 of the specification support the means plus function.
